NEEDS

More than 1,100 calls were received from households seeking financial assistance to avoid eviction or utility shut off. 33.7% of households in west suburban Cook County are considered cost-burdened*, and are likely one paycheck or crisis away from experiencing housing insecurity.

118 people (43% families) were enrolled in street outreach without a shelter bed available to them (in December 2024). It is estimated that there is a shortage of more than 5,370 shelter beds statewide.

More than 200 households were waiting in a shelter program or street outreach with no housing option available to them (in December 2024). Illinois faces a shortage of about 10,972 supportive housing units.

*According to DePaul University's Institute for Housing Studies. A household is considered to be cost-burdened when more than 30 percent of its income is spent on mortgage, rent, or other housing needs.

According to Housing Action Illinois
